XII. Personal Conflicts of Interest

Introduction

The University of South Florida, Residential Education's mission is to promote the personal and academic development of students. To carry out this mission, all relationships between students and staff should be guided by the principles of professionalism, integrity, mutual trust and respect. Any relationship that calls these principles into question jeopardizes the ability of the university and our department to effectively carry out our mission and maintain public trust.

Statement of Consensual Relationship Policy

It is a violation of the Community Manager Agreement for any CM employee to engage in an amorous, dating or sexual relationship with a student/resident or another employee when one of the individuals involved has direct professional influence or is in a position to exercise authority over the other in any way.

A member of Residential Education is considered to have direct professional power or be in a position to exercise authority over another individual when they are in the position to do any of the following (these are examples, but this list is not necessarily exhaustive):

- Supervise a student or staff member in any capacity, including evaluating work performance and having the ability to hire or provide disciplinary sanctions to, including terminating, an employee.
- Influence a student's employment, graduate assistantship, housing, or any other university activity.
- Advise students on academic and personal issues.
- Document a member of the university community for alleged violations of the Code of Conduct.
- Have access to rooms and apartments through master keys.

Consensual relationships existing between individuals—neither of whom has direct professional influence or is in a position to exercise authority over the other in any way—are not prohibited by this policy.

Consensual relationships that may exist prior to establishing a direct authority relationship or that exist after establishing a direct authority relationship both require disclosure. A self-report must be made to the supervisor, who may be required to divulge the relationship to their supervisor. Once the Residential Education administration learns of a romantic or sexual relationship, whether through self-reporting or otherwise, it will take immediate steps to eliminate the power or authority of the one individual over the other. This may be accomplished by reassigning duties or responsibilities or requiring withdrawal from a committee or moving one of the persons involved to another community. Both parties are equally responsible for reporting the existence of the relationship to the appropriate supervisor as soon as a direct authority relationship exists. If the individuals involved fail to comply with this policy, or if the relationship is not self-reported, this may result in progressive discipline, up to and including termination from the CM position. If you are unsure as to whether any potential conflict exists, consult with your supervisor immediately.
