

Love social work?!

Love social workers?!

Love that social workers make the world a better place?!

This Valentine's Day, please show your love for social work by giving to the new USF Social Work Student Scholarship Fund.

During our 40th celebration of the USF School of Social Work, we raised $14,200 for the new social work student scholarship fund. Join us in making our student scholarship an endowed fund so we can support USF social work students for years to come. We need another $10,800 to make this fund our first endowed USF student scholarship fund.

This Valentine's Day, please show your love for USF student social workers. You may give in honor of all social workers or you may name the person in whose honor you would like to give.
