WELCOME TO THE USF COLLEGE OF EDUCATION!

ABOUT THIS GUIDE

Congratulations on taking the first step towards a rewarding career by enrolling in the USF Tampa College of Education! Through high-quality education and excellence in research, teaching and learning, the College of Education strives to provide the resources our students need to be world-class educators and leaders.

The College of Education awards more than $400,000 in scholarships to students each year through private funding. With this funding, we are able to provide students the opportunity to finance their education and leave USF with not only a promising career in education, but also with as little student debt as possible.

We work to ensure that every student has the resources and support to achieve his or her goals. This guide was created to share with you about the private donor scholarships, grants, national scholarships and fellowship opportunities that are available and to assist you with the application process via the university's scholarship database and application system.

SCHOLARSHIP ELIGIBILITY

To qualify for a scholarship from the USF College of Education, students must:

- Have at least a 3.0 USF overall and transfer GPA.
- Be fully admitted to USF and the College of Education on the USF Tampa campus when the scholarship will be dispersed.
- Meet minimum qualifications regarding part or full-time enrollment at USF. These vary by scholarship type and are noted in the university scholarship database system.

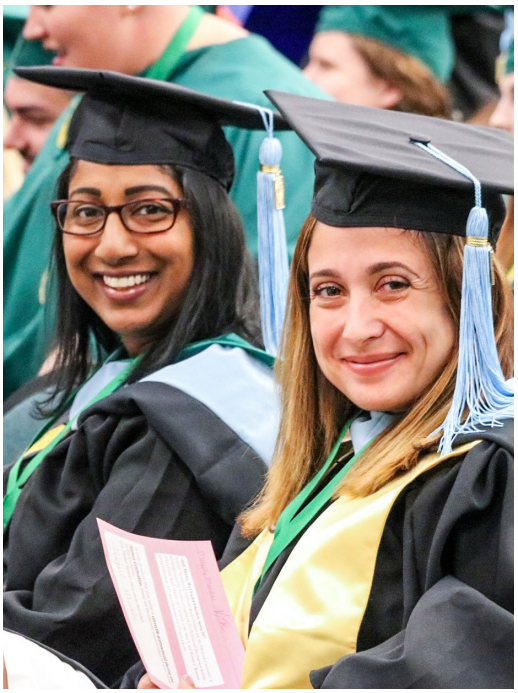
Major Related Criteria

Any scholarship criteria that mentions enrollment in a specific major as a condition for eligibility requires that students be admitted to that major to qualify. Intended majors are not considered.

Financial Need Requirements

Some scholarships require that students have demonstrated financial need at the time the scholarship is awarded. The Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) must be completed and on file with University Scholarships & Financial Aid Services by the required deadlines for each academic year.

If you need to fill out a FAFSA, please log in at http://www.fafsa.ed.gov/. You must do this before your scholarship eligibility can be determined.



HOW TO APPLY

You can apply for USF scholarships using AwardSpring, an online scholarship database that houses scholarships from the USF College of Education.

By completing a questionnaire, you will see a list of scholarships you may qualify for based on your responses. After you submit your initial application, we encourage you to check periodically to see if any additional scholarships become available to you.

For information and access to AwardSpring, visit the University Scholarships & Financial Aid Services website at the following link: www.usf.edu/financial-aid/scholarships/

Please note: You must activate your USF NetID and email in order to login to the scholarship application and begin applying for scholarships.

 Scholarships offered through the College of Education's Richardson Scholarship Program have deadlines that differ from the standard application deadlines set by the university. Please contact the College of Education Scholarship Coordinator for more information.*

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

1. Can I receive multiple scholarships?

Most awards offered by the College of Education can be combined with other scholarships and financial aid. Please contact the Scholarships Administrator for additional information.

2. How will my application be graded?

Awards will be made based on academic merit, quality of the essay or personal statement, and letters of recommendation. Letters of recommendation are not required, but are strongly encouraged.

3. Who should I ask to write my recommendation letters?

Recommendation letters should be written by academic or professional references only. Letters of recommendation should not be written by friends or family.

4. Does the deadline apply to the online application form only?

No. The deadline applies to all components of the application, including recommendation letters. All application forms and supporting documentation must be received in the university's scholarship application system by the application deadline.

5. How will I be notified of the application outcome?

Scholarship applicants will be notified by email no later than mid-August to inform them of whether or not they received a scholarship. This email contains the official scholarship award letter with the award amount and requirements of the scholarship. Awards will be posted on OASIS after drop/add week each semester.

6. What is the amount of the scholarships?

The number of scholarship awards and the amount will depend on the availability of funds. If an award amount is specified, this will be noted in the scholarship award letter.

7. Who reviews the scholarship applications?

Non-major specific scholarship applications are reviewed by a committee made up of faculty and staff. Major specific scholarship applications are reviewed by faculty members from the specific program.
