DRAFT: April, 2014
USF LGBTQ Resources on Campus

Office of Multicultural Affairs

LGBTQ students: Make this your first stop! You can find information to connect you to student groups, discover or get help with events, find out about Safe Zone training, and get connected to resources both on and off campus.

CISOGI – Committee on Issues of Sexual Orientation and Gender Identity (reports to the president of the USF)

“The concerns of the Committee on Issues of Sexual Orientation and Gender Identity (CISOGI) are based on the continuing burdens of prejudice and discrimination that people of different sexual orientations and gender identities experience in society, including the workplace and academic settings such as the university. It is CISOGI’s goal to assist the President in bringing equity and fairness to all members of the LGBT community in order to maximize their talents and their contributions to the university, which bring value to the educational outcomes of USF, and are consistent with USF’s commitment to diversity and inclusion as indicated in the USF Statement on Diversity.”

(2012–2013 CISOGI Annual Report)

Housing and Residential Education

USF Housing strives to create a safe and connected community. Contact them with individual questions and requests. Housing will make every attempt to honor roommate requests. Additionally, they will work with trans-identified students to attain appropriate housing options. This is an LGBTQ affirmative office that has limited options to work with…so make requests early.

Office of the Registrar

USF Transgender students: contact the registrar if you are in the process of name change or documented gender change. They will be able to help you know what forms are needed and how to approach the process. Forms are available on their website for name changes and official changes of gender (with supporting documents).

Office of Diversity, Inclusion, and Equal Opportunity

The office provides diversity trainings (other than Safe Zone), and also handles all complaints regarding harassment and/or discrimination. LGBTQ students and allies will find a staff that is committed to your safety and well-being on this campus.

USF Student Organizations

There are numerous groups to join on campus based on shared identities, activities, interests, professional endeavors and more. Below are some LGBTQ specific groups that are recommended by students.
