Suicide Bereavement Clinician Training Program
AFSP TAMPA BAY CHAPTER

August 19, 2016
8:30 a.m. – 4:45 p.m.
Those surviving the suicide of a loved one require a level of support that goes beyond traditional grief counselling. Yet few mental health training programs devote any time to training clinicians on the challenge of helping survivors cope with their tragic loss. This program will cover topics including:

• How grief after suicide is different than other grief
• The impact of suicide on family, friends, and others
• Video examples of clinical techniques used in actual sessions
• Clinical work for survivors long term: Principles for effectiveness

PRESENTER
John (Jack) Jordan, Ph.D., F.T.
Dr. Jordan is an internationally renowned researcher and clinician in the field of suicide bereavement. He has specialized in work with survivors for more than 35 years. Dr. Jordan is the professional advisor to AFSP’s Loss and Healing Council. Among other books, Dr. Jordan is the co-author of After Suicide Loss: Coping with Your Grief, now available in a second edition.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND?
Human Service Professionals including: Counselors, social workers, clinicians, education professionals, as well as clinical students and interns.

LOCATION
University of South Florida
PCD Building, Auditorium
3711 USF Citrus Drive
Tampa, FL  33612

COST
Free of Charge
Parking is $5
Preregistration Required

REGISTER
afsp.org/TampaTraining

QUESTIONS?
Contact Tara Sullivan
(407) 415-8757
TSullivan@afsp.org

This program is approved by the NASW (#886723632-0) and the NBCC (SP-2643) for six continuing education contact hours.