

INTENT TO APPLY FORM: FACULTY FULBRIGHT AWARD

USF Faculty: Fulbright Scholar Award (2 to 11 months duration)
Intention to Apply: Submit signed form to fulbright@usf.edu

The University of South Florida (USF) is honored to be consistently ranked among the Top Producers of faculty Fulbright Scholar and IEA Awards since 2015. We are immensely proud of our faculty and are enormously grateful to the USF leadership for their unwavering and continuous support of Fulbright faculty. The highly reputable and competitive Fulbright awards contribute significantly to USF's mission as a globally engaged research university dedicated to student success. At USF, faculty try not to compete against each other. Therefore, it is important to work with USF's Fulbright Faculty Advisor to locate the award for which someone with your expertise would be the most competitive.

Given the commitment of time necessary for a successful Fulbright Scholar application, we want to ensure that each faculty member has the support of his/her department (or other unit) and college before proceeding with the focused writing process required of application candidates. As you enter the application-planning period, we request you consult with your Department Chair/Director/Supervisor so that he/she has advanced knowledge of your potential absence the following year. This will allow them the time to make alternative arrangements and to ensure your absence is managed and does not create an undue hardship for the department.

Similarly, we want to ensure that your department Chairs/Directors/Supervisors are aware of your intention to apply so he/she then can support your plans. They can be “critical friends” as you develop your plans for teaching and/or research in another country. They can also advise you about how you can leverage this esteemed award towards your career goals, and how your award can benefit the department (e.g., research partnerships, virtual learning, or study abroad components) in future years.

Please familiarize yourself with the USF World faculty Fulbright website and complete this form indicating your intent to apply for a Fulbright Scholar Award at the beginning of your application process. You are required to return this signed form (as soon as possible), attend the “How to Search for the Best Fulbright Award for You” and “Psychology of Applying for a Fulbright Award” Fulbright workshops, and send your completed application at least 3 weeks before the deadline (by August 10, 2024) to Dr. Darlene DeMarie at: fulbright@usf.edu in order to be eligible for USF pay and benefits during your award.

Faculty Name (Fulbright Applicant):

Check all that apply:

Early Career (within 5 years of receiving Ph.D.)

Assistant Professor of..., Associate Professor of..., or Professor of Instruction

Tenure-Earning Faculty, Assistant Professor

Tenured Associate Professor, Full Professor, or Distinguished Professor

Other

College:

Department/School/Unit:

Proposed Semester(s) of Fulbright Award:

Proposed Country/Region:

Proposed Award #:

Area of Expertise:

I have read and understand my obligations under the Conditions for Application for and Acceptance of a Fulbright Scholar Award

Faculty signature:

Date:

Department Chair, Director,
or Supervisor signature:

Date:

Dean signature:

Date: