

Race & Ethnicity in Communication

SPC6934.713S21

Course Description

The course will provide an overview of race and ethnicity as interdependent, overlapping concepts that will help students understand how each is constituted, discursively framed, represented, performed, and policed with different media platforms within particular intercultural contexts. Students will participate in graduate-level discussions about book-length intersectional analyses that include but are not limited to racial formation, citizenship, and media activism.

R 6:30-9:15 pm, Online

1 Journal-Ready Paper
1 Book Review

Instructor: Dr. Aisha Durham
Department of Communication

3 eBooks Free
From USF Library