

Publications & Major Historical Research

- 2019 “Nationalism and the Communists: Re-Evaluating the Communist-Guomindang Split of 1927,” ProQuest, 2019.
- In progress* “Cleansing Chinese Bolsheviks and Creating Maoists: The Global Influences of Red & White Terror.”

Select Fellowships, Awards & Honors

- 2020 University of South Florida Graduate Teaching PhD. Fellowship (Fall 2019)
- 2017-2019 University of South Florida Graduate Teaching Assistant Fellowship
- 2018 Middlebury Chinese Language School Summer Intensive Program (declined)
- 2016-2019 Phi Alpha Theta National History Honors Society

Conferences and Presentations

- 2019 “Nationalism and the Communists: Re-Evaluation the Communist-Guomindang Split of 1927,” Master’s Thesis Public Defense, Tampa, Florida, April 2019
- 2019 “Nationalism and the Communists: Re-Evaluation the Communist-Guomindang Split of 1927,” Phi Alpha Theta Graduate Student Exhibition, Tampa, Florida, March 2019

2017 “The Struggle for China: The Evolution of Ideology, 1924-1928” Panel, USF, April

Teaching Experience

University of South Florida

Department of History

Summer 2019 “Hitler & Stalin”

Instructor- undergraduate online course – examines issues related to party ideology, war and revolution, social mobilization, political violence and genocide, as well as propaganda, art & film.

Spring 2019 “World War II in Asia”

Instructor - undergraduate lecture course - face to face, covering the wars in Asia from their roots in colonization through the Korean War – with a central focus on China and Japan.

Fall 2018 “History of Modern China” (late Qing to contemporary China)

Graduate Teaching Assistant & Guest Lecturer, undergraduate lecture course

Spring 2018 “History of the Soviet Union: 1917-1991”

Graduate Teaching Assistant, undergraduate lecture course

Fall 2017 “History of Modern China” (late Qing to contemporary China)
Graduate Teaching Assistant, undergraduate lecture course

Guest Lectures

2018 “The First United Front: 1924-1927,” Guests Lecturer, History of Modern China USF, October

“The Sino-Soviet Relationship,” Guests Lecturer, History of Modern China USF, October

“Mao and Stalin” Guests Lecturer, History of the Soviet Union USF, March

2017 “China’s Cold War, 1949-1972” Guests Lecturer, History of Modern China USF, November

Language

Mandarin Chinese (advanced/conversational), Dutch (introductory level- Summer 2020), German (reading, forthcoming Summer 2021).

References

Golfo Alexopoulos, Professor of School of Interdisciplinary Global Studies,
Director of USF Institute on Russia.

University of South Florida, Department of History
SOC 369

Tampa, FL

33620

813-974-6179

Kees Boterbloem, Professor of History

University of South Florida, Department of History
SOC 201

Tampa, FL

33620

813-974-2807