GRANT ACTIVITIES

Co-Investigator 1993-2008

Traumatic Brain Injury Rehabilitation: A Controlled, Randomized, Multicenter Treatment Trial. The objectives of this study are to evaluate the effectiveness and relative cost-efficiency of two alternative TBI rehabilitation strategies and to further develop and validate outcome measures which define the short- and long-term neurologic, cognitive, behavioral, and psychosocial consequences of moderate to severe TBI. Funding: Department of Defense; $500,000 per year local site funds.

Principle Investigator 2008-2010

Gait, Balance, and Attention Demands in Traumatic Brain Injury. This study investigates the effect of blast-related TBI versus other traumatic etiologies on gait and balance and the differential affect of increased attention demand on gait and balance abilities. Funding: VA RR&D; $435,000 from 2008-2010.
