V. RESEARCH ACTIVITY

A. Interests and Specialties

Motherhood and Crime, Justice; Gender and Crime; Violence Against Women; Diversity in STEM; Pedagogy

B. Current Projects

1. For the LGBTQPIA+ STEM student grant, we finalized a draft of our survey instrument and began distributing it in October 2019. We are currently analyzing the data. In October 2020 we will submit another NSF grant proposal to build on our pilot research, hopefully allowing us to distribute a national survey to a representative sample of LGBTQPIA+ students in STEM. Unfortunately, presentations based on our qualitative data have been cancelled in 2020 due to conference cancellations related to COVID-19.
2. I am coordinating efforts for the Ethics in Engineering grant to design the assessment methodology and the project survey.
3. I am analyzing the data from the focus groups and interviews I conducted for the "Assessing Work Design Theory" grant. The goal is a presentation and a publication from just the focus group/interview data, and then mixed methods analyses presentations and publications.

L. Other Grant Activity/Consultantships/Applied Research (funded projects are in bold)

2019. Consulted with colleagues from Engineering at USF regarding their grant proposal on revising their Order of the Engineer ceremony to affect academic honesty among engineering undergraduates.

2015-2017. I provided grant and research advice and assistance to a junior colleague, Jessie Turner, in WGS.

2015. I consulted with the Associate Dean of the College of Medicine regarding her interest in improving the rates of promotion and tenure for women and minority faculty in the College. This involved consulting on the development of two survey instruments.

2008-2010. I worked with a local food cooperative to supervise a Community Food Assessment. The graduate students I supervised prepared assessment materials and methodologies, conducted volunteer training, and analyzed the results.

2007-2008; 2009. I supervised a member assessment of the Neighborhood Coop from 2007-2008 per the request of the Board of Directors. The assessment was conducted by Kristina Dzara, a PhD student in Sociology at SIUC. As a follow up to this, I met with the Board of the Coop to talk with them about strategies to conduct self-assessments on an ongoing basis.

2005-2007. Researcher and Project Evaluator, "Jackson County Community Court Watch." I worked with the developers of the Court Watch program to design instruments, analyze gathered data, and evaluate the program outcomes. As part of this project I supervised an undergraduate student's research on Court Watch.

2004. I participated in research on domestic violence in Bangladesh as part of Kathryn Ward's (Sociology, SIUC) ongoing ALO grant. I traveled to Dhaka, Bangladesh in January 2004 to meet with domestic violence victim advocates, lawyers, shelter organizers, and other interest groups involved in domestic violence response in Dhaka.

2001-2003. Researcher, "Elder Abuse in Jackson County." I worked with the Jackson County Family Violence Task Force to develop a summary report on the status of elder abuse in Jackson County, Illinois.

2000. Project Consultant, "Targeting High-risk Domestic Violence Offenders and Victims: A Researcher-Practitioner Partnership." My role was to work with the Institute for Social and Economic Development and the Omaha Domestic Violence Coalition to assess the feasibility of developing a research proposal to submit to the National Institute of Justice.

1998-2000. Project Consultant, "Polk County Batterer's Education Program Alternative Sanctions Project Evaluation." My role was to develop strategies to improve the access to and quality of victim outcome data.

1998-1999. Informal reviewer of Nebraska research project on the needs of incarcerated women.

1998-1999. "Needs Assessment: Rural Nebraska." Principal Investigator for project with the Nebraska Crime Commission to assess the services offered to victims of crime in two rural communities in Nebraska.

M. Invited Scholarly Presentations
