

FALL 2022

ITA 4930 ENVIRONMENTAL HUMANITIES

Are you interested in environmental issues from diverse humanities perspectives?

Join USF's first course in the Environmental Humanities that explores the ecological and agroecological dimension of stories, images, and sounds of the areas and people that have not been included in the dominant narrative of economic growth. Learn what they can tell us about our present and the future we want.

Dr. Patrizia La Trecchia
patrizia@usf.edu

M & W: 3:30pm-4:45pm
Cooper Hall 249