CONSTITUTION

This Constitution is intended to be consistent with US Federal and Florida State law, the University Constitution, the rules and regulations of the Florida Board of Governors (BOG) and the University of South Florida Board of Trustees (BOT), the USF Senate, and the Collective Bargaining Agreement concluded between USF and the USF chapter of the United Faculty of Florida (UFF). In the event of any conflict, US Federal and Florida State law, the University Constitution, the policies and regulations of the BOG, the BOT, and the USF Senate, and the USF/UFF Collective Bargaining Agreement take precedence over this document.

Operating within these contexts, CAS Faculty and the College administration, headed by the CAS Dean, have responsibility for policy development and program planning.

The Dean shall represent the interests of CAS to the USF central administration. The Dean shall oversee and allocate the human, financial, and material resources of CAS among the various Departments and allied units comprising CAS.

The Faculty of the College are defined in this Constitution and Bylaws as consisting of all individuals who are budgeted (partially or fully) in the College and who hold the rank of tenure-track or tenured assistant, associate or full professor or permanent, continuing full-time instructor [at all three levels]; research assistant, research associate, or research full professor; or research associate in the Schools, Departments, Centers, or Programs that belong to the College. Beginning in their respective Departments, Centers, Institutes or Programs, CAS Faculty have primary responsibility for such fundamental areas as teaching (including curriculum as well as subject matter and methods of instruction); research, scholarship, and creative activity; and standards and procedures for admission of students into degree programs. Faculty set the degree requirements, determine when the requirements have been met, and otherwise qualify students and recommend them to the appropriate University entities to grant the degrees thus achieved.

CAS Faculty reserve the prerogative to question the actions of any administrative officer of the College. In keeping with the USF Principles of Academic Freedom and Responsibility (Policy # 10-050), the "professional judgments of Faculty members are of primary importance" when academic decisions and structures are proposed and implemented.

Faculty governance in USF's CAS operates within six major structures:

1. Office of the Dean:
The Executive Officer of CAS shall be the Dean, who shall also be a tenured member of a Department of CAS. The Dean, in consultation with the Provost, may appoint Associate and Assistant Deans to assist in the administration of CAS.
The Dean shall also carry responsibility for appointing the Chairs of Departments within CAS, with close consideration of the recommendations of departments. The Dean shall also appoint Directors of Centers and Institutes.

II. The Faculty Assembly:
The Faculty Assembly shall consist of all Faculty and meet at least once each during the fall and spring semesters. It shall be convened and presided over by the Chair of the CAS Faculty Council.

III. The Faculty Council:
The Faculty Council represents the interests of CAS Faculty to the Office of the Dean. The Council shall include the Dean, the Associate and Assistant Deans, and those Faculty and staff members elected to represent their colleagues within the College. The election and composition of the Faculty Council, its functions, and its meeting schedule are defined in the Bylaws.

IV. The Standing Committees:
The Standing Committees shall include the Technology Committee, the Academic Integrity and Grievance Committee, the Diversity Committee, the Faculty Development Committee, the Core Research Facilities Committee, the Library Committee, the Undergraduate Committee, the Graduate Committee, the Tenure and Promotion Committee and the Instructor Promotion Committee.

V. Schools:
The CAS comprises three Schools, which are aggregations of each of which is composed of CAS Departments. Each School shall establish its own Governance Document that must be endorsed by the Dean and shall be consistent with US Federal and Florida State law, the University Constitution, the rules and regulations of the Florida Board of Governors (BOG) and the University of South Florida Board of Trustees (BOT), the USF Senate, and the Collective Bargaining Agreement concluded between USF and the USF chapter of the United Faculty of Florida (UFF) and the CAS Governance Document. In the event of any conflict, US Federal and Florida State law, the University Constitution, the policies and regulations of the BOG, the BOT, and the USF Senate, the USF/UFF Collective Bargaining Agreement, and the CAS Governance Document take precedence over this document.

1 These Schools are different from units equivalent to Departments that are called "Schools" due to disciplinary tradition or the requirements of accrediting bodies, which are led by "Directors." In this document the term "School" will refer to aggregations of Departments, the term "Department" will include units called "Schools" but equivalent to Departments, and the term "Department Chair" will include the Directors of such units.
Schools shall formulate Bylaws that shall determine rules under which Departments may petition the Dean to join or leave them. A School utilizing the process detailed in SUS Policy #10-055, Policy & Procedures for Proposed Changes in Academic Units of the University of South Florida System. The authority to grant or to deny permission to Departments to leave a School, to join another School, or to form a new School, resides with the Dean, in consultation with the Schools affected by these moves, as well as with the Faculty Council.

VI. Departments, Programs, Centers, and Institutes:
Departments govern themselves through their own governance documents. These need to be consistent with US Federal and Florida law, the University Constitution, the rules and regulations of the BOG and the BOT, the USF Senate, and the Collective Bargaining Agreement concluded between USF and UFF, and the CAS Governance Document as well as the Governance Document of their School (once created). Typically, Departments consist of a Chair and associated Faculty, staff, and students. The College shall develop guidelines about criteria for the formation and maintenance of the Department structure. The College may also house separate Programs that offer courses and degrees up to and including the Ph.D., but are administered with the assistance of a Department or the Dean’s Office. Centers and Institutes can exist independently or can be associated with a Department. It is the prerogative of the Chair of such Centers and Institutes and the Dean to define the administrative structure of these Centers or Institutes in consultation with their Faculty and appropriate other entities such as advisory committees. Departments, Centers, and Institutes are evaluated each year by the Dean.

Amendments:
The Constitution may be amended by a two-thirds majority of the voting votes cast by CAS Faculty (with a majority of each School supporting the amendment), in a vote by an electronic ballot organized by the Dean’s Office. Votes will be counted by the Dean or his Associates together with the Chair of the Faculty Council.

Procedure:
The manual of procedure for all Assemblies, Councils, and Committees shall be Robert’s Rules of Order, Newly Revised. The quorums for meetings of these bodies are defined in the Bylaws.
