Being Interactive in LARGE Lecture Halls

It's easier logistically to be interactive with students when classes are smaller. How do we make the same interactions work for large lecture halls? We will isolate the interactive techniques that DO work in large lecture halls and address the problems (fixed seating, poor acoustics, etc.) that typically get in the way.

NOTE: This workshop will be held in CHE 100 and has different online registration links, as follows:

Mon., Aug. 19th, 3:00-4:00pm:

Classroom Management

Join us for a lively discussion on strategies, reactions, and policies pertaining to classroom management issues. We'll use a micro-scenario approach to explore the issues and uncover the principles below.

Fri., May 10, 1:00-2:00

Wed., June 26, 2:30-3:30

Course Redesign: Self Starter Kit

It doesn't require an entire department, or even a large commitment of time, to re-invent and re-imagine your course. We will share ideas for jump-starting a course redesign that matches your skills and comfort level.

Thurs., June 20, 2:30-3:30

Fri., Aug. 9, 1:00-2:00

Effective Lectures

We'll offer tips to help you organize your content, deliver with greater clarity, and enhance student recall of the material.

Mon., June 3, 1:30-2:30

Wed., Aug. 21, 9:00-10:00

Everything Assessment

From writing test questions to using rubrics, we'll explore ideas for optimizing your assessment strategies. We'll also talk about test construction, grading methods, extra credit, and Excel grade books.

Wed., May 15, 10:00-11:00

Tues., Aug. 20, 2:0-3:00

Flipping the Classroom

Learn how to deliver content via pre-recorded "lectures in a can" through Blackboard/Canvas, which frees up in-class time for case studies, activities, scenarios, role-plays, questions, reviews, and even games.

Thurs., May 16, 3:30-4:30

Fri., June 21, 1:00-2:00

Intellectual Property and Copyright

Do you know what a Creative Commons license is? What are Fair Use guidelines and how do they apply in educational contexts? We will explore the answers to these questions and other issues related to intellectual property and copyright in the educational context.

Wed., July 17, 10:00-11:00

Thurs., Aug. 8, 2:00-3:00

Interactive Teaching Techniques

You may use some interactive techniques in your teaching already, like the “one minute paper” or “think-pair-share.” We’ve got a list of 195 such techniques we’d love to share with you! (and we will want to learn from you what your favorites are).

Fri., May 31, 11:00-12:00

Tues., June 4, 11:30-12:30

Wed., July 3, 3:30-4:30

Fri., Aug. 16, 2:00-3:00

iPad Apps for College Teaching

We’ll isolate the top twenty apps useful for teaching, but also provide you with dozens more that are discipline-specific to give you ideas for how you might use iPads in the classroom. Come ready to share your own practices as well!

Wed., May 22, 1:00-2:00

Thurs., June 13, 10:00-11:00

Learning Activities That Work

Recent studies have revealed what works and what doesn’t in terms of student study habits and practice activities. Many of these learning activities are driven by instructor decisions. Learn how you can maximize your students’ success.

Mon., July 1, 2:00-3:00

Fri., Aug. 2, 10:30-11:30

Lecture Capture (Panopto)—How to Get Started

USF has implemented a limited solution for lecture capture in several Tampa-campus buildings (especially Business, Education, and Engineering). We’ll help you with the soft skills of lecture capture, such as how to be interesting as a “talking head,” what to wear, and other do’s and don’ts.

Tues., May 28, 12:00-1:00

Mon., June 24, 11:30-12:30

PowerPoint and Beyond

Learn how to use some of the basic and advanced features of PowerPoint, as well as the top 10 DOs and DON’Ts for creating visually engaging classroom presentations. We will also explore steps to getting started with Prezi. Feel free to bring your own presentations with you to this hands-on workshop.

Wed., May 29, 3:00-4:00

Thurs., June 27, 10:00-11:00

Presenting with Prezi

In the PowerPoint and Beyond workshop, we introduced you to the non-linear, web-based presentation program, Prezi. Now, take your skills a step further in this interactive workshop where you’ll learn how to create your own Prezi and avoid some of the common design pitfalls of new Prezi users.

Wed., June 5, 2:00-3:00

Thurs., July 11, 10:00-11:00

Scholarship of Teaching and Learning (SoTL)

Learn the basics about doing research on your teaching (what to examine, how to design your study, how to assess) as well as ideas for journals where you can submit your manuscripts.

Mon., May 20, 9:30-10:30

Fri., June 14, 10:00-11:00

Starting the Semester

We’ll cover nuts and bolts to teaching at USF, including some last-second tweaks to your syllabus and course design, if needed. You’ll also leave with resources and ideas to energize your teaching.

Mon., Aug. 26, 12:00-1:00

Targeting and Enhancing Student Motivation

Classroom success often depends on student motivation. We will supply you with a toolset for helping to inspire and motivate students in your course content.

Wed., July 10, 10:00-11:00

Tues., Aug. 6, 1:00-2:00
