

Bachelor of Science in Long Term Care Administration

This degree is a specialist degree which provides students with a basic education in Gerontology and prepares them to sit for the Florida Nursing Home Administrator's Examination. Students completing the coursework and internship may also find positions in many long term care settings such as assisted living facilities, retirement communities, home health, rehabilitation facilities, hospice and other extended residential settings or medical services for older persons, persons with disabilities and the chronically ill.

Entry-Level Positions

General and Operations Managers

Management Analysts

Office Manager

Curriculum Information

Long Term Care Administration Eight Semester Plan

Positions with a Graduate Degree

Business Teacher - Post Secondary

Chief Executives

Medical and Health Service Manager

Professional Organizations and Related Resources

Long Term Care Education

National Association of Long Term Care Administrator Boards

Senior Care

Where else can I find information on this major?

Occupational Outlook Handbook

O*Net Online

USF Career Services