

New High Impact Practice Gen Ed Course

CHD 4537 • CRN 14376

Parenting in the 21st Century

Fall 2024

Tuesday & Thursday

11:00-12:15

Instructor

Nathan Willis

More Information

mftprogram@usf.edu

About the MFT Program

www.usf.edu/mft

Director: Ryan Henry

Events, activities, programs and facilities of the University of South Florida are available to all without regard to race, color, marital status, gender, sexual orientation, religion, national origin, disability, age, Vietnam or disabled veteran status as provided by law and in accordance with the university's respect for personal dignity. USF is an EO/EA institution.

Parenting Fall 2024 in the 21st Century

Course description

This course will provide students with a clear map for raising children based on current research and best practices, as well as give a better understanding of children and the family lifecycle.

What you will learn:

- Latest research on parent-child relationships
- How parenting affects child development
- How the parenting you received affects you
- Parenting strategies to use across different stages of development

Who should take this course

Any undergraduate student interested in working with children or families in their professional life or in raising children in their personal life.

*This course is now an approved
High Impact Practice
Gen Ed course!*

