

The Opioid Epidemic:

Access to Treatment in a Variety of Settings

Friday, October 12, 2018 • 9 am-Noon
University Area Community Development Corporation, Inc.
14013 North 22nd Street, Tampa, FL 33613

Featured Presenters:

Wilson Palacios, PhD, Associate Professor, School of Criminology and Justice Studies, University of Massachusetts Lowell
Right-sizing the Criminal Justice System Within the Current Opioid Syndemic

Maayan Lawental, PhD, MSW, Assistant Professor, School of Social Work, College of Behavioral and Community Sciences, USF
Professional Stigma Towards Individuals with Dual Diagnoses

Khary Rigg, PhD, Assistant Professor, Department of Mental Health Law & Policy, College of Behavioral and Community Sciences, USF
The Opioid Crisis in Rural Communities

Holly Hills, PhD, Associate Professor and Chair, Department of Mental Health Law & Policy, College of Behavioral and Community Sciences, USF
Challenges and Opportunities in Working with Pregnant and Parenting Women with Opioid Use Disorders

Welcome and Introductions:

Dwayne Smith, PhD, Senior Vice Provost and Dean, Office of Graduate Studies, University of South Florida

Julie Serovich, PhD, Dean and Professor, College of Behavioral and Community Sciences, University of South Florida

Moderator:

Kimberly Johnson, PhD, Research Associate Professor, Department of Mental Health Law & Policy,
College of Behavioral and Community Sciences, USF

Registration fee: $10 per person. Space is Limited.
Click <http://bit.ly/OpiEpiExt> to Register.

Register for the event, get directions, and parking information.

CEs available for some professions.

For reasonable accommodations, please contact Patricia Cleveland, cleveland@usf.edu.

Sponsored by:

*Drs. Carl and Cynthia Hawkins, USF College of Behavioral and Community Sciences, USF Departments of Criminology, Mental Health Law & Policy,
Child & Family Studies, School of Social Work, Florida Kids Count, and the Louis de la Parte Florida Mental Health Institute.*

