STORYTELLING SAVES LIVES

This Is My Brave is a movement of storytellers sharing their authentic stories of healing, recovery and resilience.

Dr. Kya Conner and Dr. Tonicia Freeman-Foster are co-producing a special show focused on a shining light and amplifying voices within the Black community.

If you are Black or African American and have a recovery story to tell, we urge you to join "This is My Brave: Black Stories Matter" to share your story of recovery.

To apply, please record a video of your 5-minute audition piece and email it to auditions@thisismybrave.org by August 15th

Your life Matters. Your story Matters.
