

SUCCESS AND WELLNESS COACHING

What is Success and Wellness Coaching?

USF Success and Wellness Coaches work with students to co-create a plan for success, focusing on motivation, accountable goal-setting, and holistic wellness. Coaches can help students create a pathway to become their best selves and improve their overall well-being. Coaches can also provide additional support for students who are facing academic, personal, or lifestyle challenges, but may not need psychological counseling services.

How can Success and Wellness Coaching help students?

We believe that students can create their own solutions and successfully reach their goals when they:

- understand their strengths
- envision a clear path
- harness their motivation
- create an action plan for success

During an intake session, the coach will work with the student to create a strategy that fits their busy and ever-changing life. The coach and student then monitor progress through regularly scheduled follow-up meetings.
