- Learning – accessible (convenient, inexpensive) opportunities to learn about both lofty and light things;
- Friends – we are a gathering place for adults who care about both light and lofty things; and
- Purpose – we work together to build a learning environment that works for us.

That’s the OLLI way. What are you waiting for? Join us!

Tour of the Raymond James Art Collection
Tuesday, September 17, 10 a.m.
Join this special free tour through a section of one of Florida’s largest private art collections, the Tom and Mary James/Raymond James Financial Art Collection. The collection, with a focus on Western and Southwestern American and wildlife art, has grown and recently has been divided between two locations. We will tour the art at the original location, the Raymond James Financial headquarters building in the Feather Sound area of Pinellas County. The tour and parking are free, and this part of the collection is open to the public only through privately guided tours. Meet in the lobby of the main building. Be sure to call Don to register because this tour is limited to 20 OLLI members. He will give you directions. We will have a Dutch treat lunch at Cracker Barrel after the tour.

Tour of Raymond James Stadium, Home of the Buccaneers
Thursday, September 19, 10:30 a.m.
Discover many special places in the Raymond James Stadium, home to the Tampa Bay Buccaneers professional football team. We will walk on the playing field, go into the seating area and visit a luxury box, see the press box area and the locker room, go onto The Pirate Ship (the only time you can do this) and end up in the mystery room. The tour lasts about an hour and it costs $8.50 per person, cash only and correct change. Call Don to register and be sure to get all the parking directions! We will have a Dutch treat lunch at La Teresita after the tour.

Tour of Sacred Heart Catholic Church
Tuesday, September 24, 10 a.m.
In the heart of downtown Tampa, the magnificent Sacred Heart Catholic Church has stood since 1905 on the site of the first church built in 1859. Seventy beautiful stained-glass windows surround the interior, which features the architecture of a cathedral and a grand pipe organ. The church is led by the Franciscan order. We will meet at the church at 10:00 a.m. for a tour, to learn about the church’s construction and history, and to look at its windows and statues and more. The tour is free, but donations are accepted. The address is 501 N. Florida Avenue, and parking is in local lots or at meters on the street.

Tour of Sweetwater Farms
Sunday, October 13, 12 noon
Join us for a free walking tour of the Sweetwater Organic Community Farm in Tampa’s Town N’ Country neighborhood. The tour includes the greenhouse, herb garden, composting area, educational garden and chicken coop. We will learn about how this small-scale farm operates, organic agriculture, and what’s in season. Wear walking shoes and a hat, as it will be mostly in the sun and on unpaved ground. This tour is limited to 25 people.

Monday, December 9, 10 a.m.
Learn about the history of the grand Tampa Bay Hotel that Henry Plant opened in downtown Tampa in 1891, which now houses the Henry Plant Museum and the offices of the University of Tampa. We will tour the building and then enjoy the annual Holiday Stroll through the museum and see how the hotel was decorated for Christmas in the 1890s. The hotel is one of the special landmarks of the City of Tampa, and the museum has preserved much of the history and décor of the hotel’s heyday and the opulence of the late 19th and early 20th centuries. The hotel tour is free and there is a small fee for the museum entrance. We will meet on the wide porch facing the Hillsborough River.
