

The Anchin Center is proud to offer this workshop in partnership with the Pinellas County Schools Office of Inclusion and Innovation

AN INTRODUCTION TO TEXTURED TEACHING

with LORENA GERMÁN

WHO

PreK-12 teachers,
instructional coaches,
and administrators

WHEN

FEBRUARY 23
5:00 p.m. – 8:00 p.m.

WHERE

Pinellas County Schools
Office of Inclusion and Innovation
301 4th St. SW, Largo, FL

COST

FREE

» Register now: tinyurl.com/texturedteaching

Do you want to teach for social justice while building students' skills and abilities in an engaging way? It's possible through Textured Teaching, an approach grounded in Culturally Sustaining Pedagogy (Paris, Alim 2017).

In this hands-on workshop, you'll learn about the four traits of Textured Teaching and how to think of your subject area through this framework. You'll have a chance to brainstorm ideas with other educators and plan for some of your upcoming lessons and units.

MEET YOUR FACILITATOR

Lorena Germán is a two-time nationally awarded Dominican American educator focused on anti-racist and anti-bias education. She's been featured in the New York Times, NPR, PBS, Rethinking Schools, EdWeek, Learning for Justice Magazine, and more. She published The Anti-Racist Teacher: Reading Instruction Workbook, and her next book "Textured Teaching: A Framework for Culturally Sustaining Practices" (Heinemann, 2021) is about curriculum & lesson development focused on social justice. She's a co-founder of #DisruptTexts and Multicultural Classroom. Lorena is also the Chair of NCTE's Committee Against Racism and Bias in the Teaching of English. She lives in Tampa, Florida where she is a mami and wife—two of her most important roles.

For more information, please contact:

Rachel Hatten

Director of Professional Development

Email: rachelhatten@usf.edu

