Evaluation in Accreditation of Academic Programs

Saturday, January 28, 2023 // 8:00-9:00 a.m. ET

Presented by:

Vanessa Reyes, Ph.D.

vanessareyes@au.edu

The quality and value of educational programs lie in administrators and faculty. When assessing educational programs and ensuring higher education accreditation, it is necessary to analyze the concepts of evaluation and procedures carried out by institutions specifically in the self-assessment process. This workshop focuses on documenting the value of evaluation in program accreditation, using a case study methodology within Library and Information Science Programs.
