

Victoria Glazar

Victoria Glazar leads ESG reporting and CSR communications at Bristol Myers Squibb, a global biopharmaceutical company. Prior to joining BMS, she led communications and reporting for the Chief ESG Officer at Verizon. Over the past 25 years, she has been a journalist, public relations practitioner and strategic communicator specializing in the areas of social impact and environmental sustainability. Currently, her work focuses on health equity issues and the intersection of climate change and human health.