THE DAWNING OF A NEW ERA:

Mapping USF’s Future in the Context of Consolidation

FACULTY ADDRESS  |  NOVEMBER 16, 2018
RALPH WILCOX, PROVOST AND EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT
“The University of South Florida is on a trajectory unlike ever before in its history. We are reaching milestones once reserved for universities twice our age. We continue to make groundbreaking strides in research, student success, teaching and community impact.

Because of this positive momentum, my family and I believe that this is the right time for me to step down from my post as president, effective July 1, 2019. It has been the honor of my professional career to be part of this journey since the year 2000.”

GUIDING PRINCIPLES FOR CONSOLIDATION

• Strengthen USF’s stature as a Preeminent Research University with national and global prominence;

• Embrace a model of “One University Geographically Distributed” while preserving campus identity – guided by a transparent and collaborative process;

• Commit to “Students First”, through expanding access and raising educational attainment while continuing USF’s national best practice of student success and diversity;

• Establish a clear, simple and unified leadership structure by aligning accountability with authority and valuing shared governance through engaging students, faculty and staff on all campuses;

• Assure consistency of high impact research across the university through establishing centers and programs of academic excellence on each campus;

• Enhance regional economic development while avoiding unwarranted duplication of academic programs, and

• Maximize performance, service quality and operational efficiencies through optimizing the utilization of faculty talent and technology across the University.
