Dear USF Student,

Are you planning on traveling internationally this year? The USF International Travel Authority Policy #10-507 requires that all students register their student-related international travel with the USF World Education Abroad Office or with USF Health.

Student-related travel is any international activity tied to an individual’s status as an active USF student, regardless of the source of funding for the travel. This may include international travel related to a conference, a student organization, program requirement, elective, research project, service-learning project or study abroad. However, it does not include leisure travel.

Once you are registered, you will be enrolled in USF’s mandatory International Health and Evacuation Coverage offered by United Healthcare Global, a leading industry provider. Insurance coverage is provided while abroad. You will automatically benefit from USF World’s 24/7 International Assistance Line and International Risk and Security Office services. A nominal one-time charge is assessed for security and safety monitoring. To learn more, contact USF World Education Abroad Office contact: GlobalTravel@usf.edu

With our best wishes for successful travel,
Dr. Kiki Caruson
USF Interim Vice President, USF World

TRAVEL & COVID-19
Please review the Guidance for University Travel. Essential Travel Abroad may still be approved in Spring and Summer 2021. Make sure you understand the new Terms and Conditions for Traveling during this pandemic. Stay up to date with conditions in the country you hope to travel to.
USF Education Abroad offers a variety of study abroad opportunities for students and faculty in over 25 countries, these include: semester exchanges, dual degree programs, summer and short term programs, international internships, and service learning. Programs range from one week to one year and award academic credit. Education Abroad facilitates the incoming and outgoing exchange process and works closely with our international partner universities to develop new academic programming and exchanges.

The Education Abroad Office provides detailed planning assistance for both students and faculty program leaders, including pre-departure orientation sessions. The staff members have extensive experience in study abroad and are able to offer seasoned, insightful advising and information to anyone considering or planning a study abroad experience. Education Abroad has staff on all three USF campuses to serve students and faculty.

Reminder: All of these amazing opportunities from Education Abroad, Peace Corps, GCP, etc. are available to ALL students regardless of which campus you are on - including Online!
As a part of the GloBull Ambassador’s program, students have the opportunity to share experiences and knowledge with other students who are thinking about studying abroad, or those who have already decided and are in the process of preparing for their study. In addition to quality conversations about overseas destinations and issues, students will get to experience the study abroad industry from the advisor’s standpoint, network within the study abroad community, and add a great experience to your résumé! Also, all students who successfully complete the program will receive an official certification of completion and be acknowledged at our end of year banquet...its kind of a big deal! All graduating seniors will be provided with commencement recognition (medals, sashes, etc.) to show off their study abroad experiences on USF’s biggest stage.

PARTICIPATE

Being a global citizen can mean many things, but at the heart of it all is being able to engage meaningfully and effectively with diverse people, places, events, challenges, and opportunities.

For the purposes of the Global Citizens Project, USF has identified three primary qualities possessed by a global citizen:

• Global Awareness:
  EXPLORE your role in the world. Prepare to change your world!

• Global Responsibility:
  CONNECT with diverse people, places, and issues. Live beyond your borders!

• Global Participation:
  PARTICIPATE to make a difference locally and globally. Do something that matters!

Peace Corps and the University of South Florida have a partnership centered on an undergraduate program called Peace Corps Prep (PC Prep). Students who join the PC Prep program will combine targeted coursework with hands-on experience, building the competencies needed to be strong Peace Corps volunteers or other international development specialists.

PC Prep is an interdisciplinary program that provides students opportunities to hone their leadership skills, intercultural competencies, foreign language ability, and career readiness. Completion of the program will give students a competitive edge when applying for Peace Corps service or for jobs in the international arena. PC Prep graduates will be able to engage meaningfully and effectively with diverse people, places, events, challenges, and opportunities.

In order to complete the Peace Corps Prep program, students co-enroll with the Global Citizens Project (GCP). Undergraduate students build upon their global engagement across the university and community by attending 8 GCP-Approved Events, completing 2 GCP Certified Activities, and documenting their Personal Reflections. To complete the PC Prep program, they then select Sector Specific Coursework, document their Volunteer work, and complete a CV and a website profile to have the opportunity to then apply to Peace Corps after they graduate from USF.

USF COLLEGE OF ENGINEERING COVERDELL FELLOWS

The University of South Florida’s College of Engineering has had a long and beneficial relationship with the Peace Corps. Many of graduates from their Engineering for International Development program now work for the federal government and international organizations on issues of environmental health that support humanitarian response and the development sector. The Department of Civil & Environmental Engineering manages the graduate concentration in Engineering for International Development that allows students to combine extended international service in the Peace Corps or an NGO with their graduate education. A Coverdell Fellows program is also available for returned Peace Corps volunteers.

Two are our Coverdell Fellows are highlighted below:

Martha McAlister (PhD student in Environmental Engineering) served as a Community Health Facilitator, specializing in water, sanitation, and hygiene in the Republic of Vanuatu. Her home was adjacent to a medical clinic and maternity ward in a small village on the northern end of Maewo Island. She assisted several village water committees in assessing their water supplies on Maewo and other islands, through collaboration with other Peace Corps Volunteers. Now, at USF, she is researching the complex interactions of environmental, social, economic systems, and other factors that influence the sustainability of water and sanitation schemes in low and middle income countries.

Christopher Nenninger (PhD student in Civil Engineering) served as a Rural Aquaculture Promotion Volunteer in the agricultural sector in Zambia. He was tasked to promote rural fish farming via small, family fish ponds to make fishing more sustainable. He also wrote a grant to bring two grinding mills to his community which would fund and be run by an adult literacy class. His research addresses provision of safe water in a coastal region of Eastern Madagascar. He uses GIS and Matlab to understand the fate and transport of chemical microbial contaminants that reach shallow groundwater.

Please Contact Dr. James Mihelcic at: jm41@usf.edu for more information on USF’s College of Engineering’s Coverdell Fellowships and visit their website: https://usfmi.weebly.com/index.html
